High performance and high definition come together to create the LG 32LN530B LED television for viewing at its finest. This television has a 32-inch screen and full 1080p high-definition resolution, which makes it an ideal component to add to a home theater system. The 1,080 progressive resolution lines on the television screen is what helps to give you more detailed images in vibrant color. This LG LED TV is also ENERGY STAR qualified, which means that not only will it conserve natural resources even while in idle or sleep
